Summer Exhibitions June 5th - July 25th
USF Contemporary Art Museum (CAM)
M-F, 10AM-5PM, Sat 1-4PM

Museum at Work
Museum at Work turns the museum inside out by making the USF art collection, and the work associated with managing the collection, visible and accessible to students and visitors. Visitors will view collection artwork displayed in a series of three rotating exhibitions while staff performs various collection care activities in the gallery. Students and visitors also have the opportunity to participate in free, general admission workshops on photographing artwork, safe storage practices for artwork, framing basics, and an introduction to art installation.

With Hidden Noise
With Hidden Noise is an exploration of sound art that asks museum visitors to spend time listening. Titled after Marcel Duchamp’s ready-made sculpture of a ball of string containing a mysterious sound-making object hidden in its folds, this exhibition brings together evocative sounds, some recognizable from traditional instruments and field recordings, and others masked through electronic processes. With Hidden Noise is curated by Stephen Vitiello, an artist who has worked with sound for over 20 years, transforming anodyne noises into compelling soundscapes.
